

No Change in the Cabinet.
The Washington Union, of the 20th instant, has the following authoritative notice:

It is well known that we do not attempt to contradict the numberless falsehoods daily sent, or which purport to be sent by telegraph or otherwise, from this city in relation to the President and the different members of the Cabinet; but the intention of Mr. Guthrie to resign is announced with such an assurance of reliable authority, that we deem it proper to say that it is without the slightest foundation in truth. Such an idea was never entertained for one moment, either by the President or the Secretary, and we may as well add, that the rumors which have gained circulation within the last eighteen months with regard to contemplated changes in the Cabinet, and all rumors of dissensions between its different members, or between any one of them and the President, are each and all absolutely and entirely groundless.

From the Boston Post.
LETTER FROM A KNOW NOTHING MEMBER OF THE MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.
—Boston, Jan. 16th, 1855.

Son John—I have too much Legislature work to come home on Saturday nights, as I said I would—so you mind farm. I have managed to get on a good many committees so as to come popular by having my name printed often in the papers, and I manage to say something occasionally, and I have seen my name printed three times in the daily bee. American principles is looking up some here in Boston, and we are going to discord all foreign elements in our government. (by the way have the barn door painted over with some other color besides Spanish brown. I don't like any thing Spanish.) The governor has made a lick at the foreign militia, and disbanded all the companies. (don't use any more British oil for your deafness, for I have thrown away that box of Russian save your mother put in my trunk to rub my rheumatic leg with, use American phisic, it is the best.) We are going to have the foreign lingo taken from our coat of arms and put plain Yankee English in its place. We are going ahead I tell you, and make a clean sweep of every thing of foreign extraction, I have visited no place of amusement excepting the live buffalo which is a regular native he looks very much like a hairy cow.—Speaking of cows reminds me very much of our Durham bull you may sell him to Wade the butcher, he is of foreign extraction. A friend asked me to go to the Athenaeum and see the library on pictures, but I was told nearly all the pictures are painted by the old masters as they are called—and these I am told are without exception all foreigners besides many of the books are in foreign languages so it is contrary to the spirit of my principles to visit such a place. I was going to see Banvard's great painting of the Holy Land, which is making some stir, but a native artist told me it was mostly painted with Venetian red Dutch pink and Naples yellow while the skies were all Prussian blue too much of the foreign elements to be interesting to me. By the way speaking of paint have the front blinds which I had painted with French green last fall painted some color other than I mentioned above. Stop the Zions Herald and take the Yankee privateer in its place. Give my Marcellus vest to Dick the plowman and tell him to stone Jip the scotch terrier off the farm, and to kill that Maltese cat.

from your affectionate father.

Ex-Minister Sent.
The return of Mr. Soule, the illiberalizing Minister, is the theme of universal joy. The Courier and Enquirer thus describes his going out and his return:

Pierre Soule, who marched away a soldiering to Spain eighteen months ago, is now marching home again. He is tired of the service. It is harder than he expected. It was his plan to avenge the Black Warrior and take Cuba. For that very purpose it was that he buckled his sword on his side. We all remember how fearsome he looked when he blew the trumpet at the Astor House before he crossed the seas, and what a "dreadful note of preparation" it was. All the country cocks did crow when they heard it. Europe picked up its ears. There was alarm in the Escorial. From Grenada to the Austrias brave hearts fluttered. The soldier strode into the Peninsula.

With pistol and broadsword, now in ambush and now in the open field, he waged a new Peninsular war. For more than a twelvemonth he did great feats under the sun. Once, indeed, the story ran that the throne of the Queen herself was not safe before him. Even beyond the border he frightened the very Napoleon.

But one day—twas after the "going in" at Ostend—his flaming crest paled, his warlike rage abated, his heart sank, and spirit—doomed away. He made up his mind to go home—the Black Warrior unvanquished, Cuba untaken. As the other gallant knight of yore did before him, so did he——give one long, last lingering look, then turned from that sad place. His hope was crushed, his after fate untold in martial strain, His banner led the spears no more amid the hills of Spain.

A clever gentleman or his friend S. H. Parvin, the trusted and highly respected Cincinnati agent of the Press of the West and South. Unlike the Eastern agents of the Press, he is prompt to meet his engagements, and frequently anticipates the demands of those who have claims against him for advertisements he has procured and furnished. There is good policy in this mode of doing business, for which our friend Parvin is already distinguished; for, in consideration of his prompt and honorable dealings with the craft editorial, there is not a publisher within the purview of his agency, who would not be disposed to give him as good, if not better terms than those they would offer even to transient cash customers. We trust that the business of his agency will so increase as to warrant his continuance and enlargement, for the establishment of an honest, reliable and efficient agency in the city of Cincinnati, is a matter of paramount importance to the Press of the West and South West. Those who are not connected with the Press, will also find him a prompt and reliable agent for the transaction of any business which they may have in the metropolis of Pork. At some future time we will have a word to say about our Cincinnati advertisers, procured through the efficient agency of our friend Parvin; at present we have neither space nor time for the elongation of our sincere commendation of modest merit.

The Kinney Expedition.
The Washington correspondent of the Pennsylvania thus writes in relation to this matter:

The statement which appeared in the Star, that the President was about issuing his proclamation, warning the people of the United States against the Kinney Expedition to Central America, I have reason for believing was not authorized by any member of the Administration. Col. Kinney had an interview with the Secretary of State this morning on the subject. Mr. Marcy distinctly stated that no communication whatever had taken place between the President and himself on the question of a proclamation, and that if the President deemed it necessary for the national honor and interests to take such a step, he (Col. Kinney) would be promptly advised of it.

Col. Kinney's expedition is purely a pacific one, and he has no more idea of being concerned in any filibuster scheme than he has of turning his colonists over to the allies. The expedition meets with the countenance, approval and support of some of the best men in the nation, and must be triumphantly successful, in spite of all open or secret opposition. As a mere commercial speculation, it holds out greater inducements than any enterprise of the day.

Indian Fight in Texas.
The San Antonio Ledger, extra, of the 18th ultimo, furnishes the following account of a fight between a party of Rangers and a party of Comanches and Mexicans, at the crossing of the Pecos, in which six Indians and one Mexican were killed and several were captured:

Pecos River, Jan. 8.—The command of Major Simonsen, consisting of riflemen and Texas mounted volunteers, encamped on the night of the 6th at Oak Creek, and on yesterday morning the advanced guard (riflemen) fell in with an armed party of Comanche Indians and Mexicans, at the crossing of the Pecos, and succeeded in killing six Indians, and capturing the balance, with a considerable number of mules and ponies. Capt. Travis' company participated in the affair, while that of Capt. Henry went in pursuit of Indians that escaped by the way of a ravine.

From the captured party it was ascertained that nineteen Indians had gone down the day before with fifty-five head of mules. Capt. Walker's company was dispatched in pursuit, and have returned without success. It is supposed that the Indians were aware of our presence, and made a forced travel to effect their escape.

Mr. Wise.—The orator of Accomac is industriously stumping the State of Virginia. On the 24th ult., he addressed a meeting in Charlottesville. The New York Herald's correspondent gives the following account of the affair:

He spoke in the Town Hall, which was crowded with an audience of about one thousand. The galleries were filled with ladies. The larger portion of the audience were students of the University of the State, in this town, and perhaps the aggregate number of voters present did not exceed three hundred.—Mr. Wise's speech was rather coldly received up to its termination, when he came out upon the Know-Nothings, and then he called down upon him a constant hissing from all parts of the house. Some applauded, some whistled, some hooted, some laughed, and now and then cracked a joke, and among them all an interesting excitement was kept up till Mr. Wise retired from the stage. He evidently feels himself already defeated; and well he may, for the Know-Nothings have everything in their own hands.

Why, in this little town, where there is a popular vote of only five hundred, there are three hundred Know-Nothings; and on the very night of Mr. Wise's speech, (so I am told, and you may rely upon my information is correct) the Know-Nothings held a meeting here, and initiated forty new members.

A Town Over-Snowed.—Printing Office and Well Edited.
The Carthage (Ill.) Republican says: The storm raged incessantly all day Sunday, and such was the force of the wind that the snow was forced through every crack and crevice of our dwellings, and probably not a house in town was air-tight enough to keep the snow out. It was next to impossible to get anyone out of the town to another, and every one very wisely kept in doors. In fact, it was impossible for any one to have been long exposed to the storm and survived. On Monday our office presented an appearance that would have discouraged most printers. The wind had forced the door open; the floor was covered with snow, in some places over a foot deep; every case was filled.

We hear of some stock being frozen to death, and a great many fowls were destroyed. One man in town had his well completely filled with snow, and had to melt snow water to thaw it out.

Maxims for the Young.

Never be idle. If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind. Always speak the truth. Keep good company or none. Make few promises. Live up to your engagements. Have no very intimate friends. Keep your own secrets if you have any. When you speak to a person look him in the face. Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue. Good character is above all things else.

Never listen to loose or idle conversation. You had better be poisoned in your blood than your principles. Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts. If any one speak ill of you, let your life be so virtuous that none will believe him.

Drink no intoxicating drinks. Ever live (misfortunes excepted) within your income. When you retire to bed think over what you have done during the day. Never speak lightly of religion. Make no haste to be rich if you would prosper.

Small and steady gains give competency and tranquility of mind. Never play at any kind of game. Avoid temptation through fear you may not withstand it. Earn money before you spend it. Never run in debt unless you see a way to get out again. Never borrow if you can avoid it. Be just before you are generous.

On the 1st ultimo Mons. Godard left New Orleans in his balloon, and in three hours and a half landed at Amite settlement, East Feliciana, La. a distance of one hundred and ninety miles.

MODERN SYNTAX.—A New Orleans editor, recording the career of a mad dog, says:

"We are pained to say that a rabid animal before it could be killed, severely bit Dr. Hart and several other dogs." "For sale, an excellent young horse—would suit any timid lady or gentleman with a long silver tail."

AMERICAN ARTISTS' UNION.
The public are respectfully informed that specimens of the splendid Engravings issued by the American Artists' Union are now on view at the "News Office."

An early application is necessary to secure the best impressions. One dollar procures a splendid engraving worth two, delivered at the time of purchase, together with a ticket entitling the purchaser to a share in the gifts to be distributed in January, value one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. For further particulars see advertisement.

Agents, by applying promptly, can secure permanent advantages. Every Family should at once procure a bottle of the great Arabian remedy for man and beast, called H. G. FARRELL'S ARABIAN LINIMENT. It cures the most intense pains in a few minutes, restores the general fluid of joints, and thus cures stiff joints; it penetrates the flesh to the bone, relaxes contracted cords, cures rheumatism and palsied limbs of twenty years' standing; also tumors, swollen neck, enlargement of the glands, and is the best medicine for ailments of cattle ever discovered, curing swenny, spavins, splint and all diseases which require an external application.

Sun Pain of 10 years' standing cured by H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment.
Mr. H. G. Farrell—Dear Sir: I had been afflicted with the Sun Pain for the last ten years and could never get relief except by bleeding; but by the use of H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, applied over the temples about three or four times a day, it was entirely removed, and I have felt nothing of it since. I went into the stable one night to apply it to a horse's sore leg, and being very lame he stumbled and fell against my leg, crushing and bruising me so badly that they turned black as my hat, rendering them powerless. I applied your Liniment and was well enough in a few days to go about as usual. I also crushed my finger in a shocking manner, by letting a back log fall upon it; your Liniment soon healed it up though.

JOHN B. MCGEE.
La Salle, Peoria co., Ill., Feb. 6, 1849.
[Esg. Barker, of New Canton, Ill., says:]
Mr. H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment has cured me from cases here, which every other remedy had failed in; one was a white swelling and contracted cords in the leg of a boy twelve years old. The leg had withered away and was so contracted that he had no use of it. Three doctors had tried their skill upon it in vain, and was fast sinking to the grave, when the boy's father was induced to try H. G. Farrell's Arabian Liniment. Before the first bottle was used up he came to Mr. Barker, and the first words he said were, "Mr. Barker, I want all that Liniment you have in the store; the one bottle I got did my boy more good than all that had ever been done before." That boy is now well and hearty and has free use of his legs. It is good for sprains, bruises, cuts, burns and swellings.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.
The public are cautioned against another counterfeit, which has lately made its appearance. Call on W. B. Farrell's Arabian Liniment, the most dangerous of all the counterfeits, because it has the name H. G. Farrell on the label, and is sold in the same manner as the genuine article, and will do you no good, but will ruin your health. Discover their error when the scoundrel mixture has wrought its will.

CASH MUSIC STORE. COLBURN & FIELD.
No. 78 West Fourth Street, NEAR VINE.
I HAVE decided to reduce the price of their entire Catalogue of Music, and to sell it at a great discount. In order to afford this reduction, we are obliged to sell at a sacrifice. We will sell at a sacrifice, and the public generally, will be ever a better served than heretofore, by a strict adherence to this principle. A reduction will be made on instruments, books, etc. Since the study of music has become an essential branch of education, a reduction in the price of sheet music is a boon to the public, and we have no doubt that the plan we have adopted will increase our sales sufficiently to warrant us in carrying out our enterprise. Our Catalogue already contains the works of the best European Authors, and we will continue to reprint such as are needed, and all of which will be sold at less than one-half the price of the foreign copies. We will also be the importation of a large quantity of new and select pieces of Music, and will sell for Cash only, at greatly reduced prices.

DISSOLUTION.
THE Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, under the style of Withers & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. The notes and accounts of said firm are placed in the hands of J. S. Withers, who will receive and discharge all debts of the late firm. All persons indebted to the late firm are requested to call at the counting room of Messrs. Sharp & Jones and make settlement with that party. All persons indebted to the late firm are requested to call at the counting room of Messrs. Sharp & Jones and make settlement with that party. All persons indebted to the late firm are requested to call at the counting room of Messrs. Sharp & Jones and make settlement with that party.

PLAN FOR THE CURRENT YEAR.
The payment of three dollars constitutes any one a member of this Association, and entitles him to a ticket in the distribution of the Statuary and Paintings, which are to be allotted to members in January.

Persons taking five memberships are entitled to five of the Statues one year, and to six tickets in the distribution.

Persons on becoming members can have their Magazines commence with any month they choose and rely on its being mailed to them promptly, on the first of every month, direct from New York. The net proceeds derived from the sale of memberships are devoted to the purchase of Works of Art for the coming year.

Books open to receive names at the Eastern office, New York, or Western office, Sandusky. The Gallery of Art is located at Sandusky, (the Western office of the Association) where superb granite buildings have been erected for it, and in whose spacious saloons the splendid collection of Statuary and Paintings is exhibited.

THE ADVANTAGES SECURED.
1st. All persons receive the full value of their subscription at the start, in the shape of sterling Magazine Literature.
2d. Each member is contributing toward producing choice Works of Art which are to be distributed among themselves, and are at the same time encouraging the artists of the country, dispersing thousands of dollars through its agency.

Persons receiving funds for membership should make letters "Registered," and state the month which they wish their magazines to commence, and also their post-office address in full, on the receipt of which a certificate of membership, together with the magazine desired, will be forwarded to any part of the country.

Those who purchase magazines at bookstores will observe that by joining this association they receive the magazine and free ticket in the annual distribution, all at the same price that they now pay for the magazine alone. Illustrated Catalogues of the whole collection sent on application, free of charge.

Read Bird's Singing.

By E. P. Leland.

Three men and a bull-dog ugly.

Two guns, and a terrier lame.

They'd better stand out in the mud there.

And set themselves up for game!

But no! I see by the cocking

Of that red-haired Paddy's eye,

He's been 'reading' too much for you, Sir.

Any much game to try!

Whist, Jamey, me boy! kape dark there,

And hound the big bull-dog in:

There's a bloody big cloud of rade-bude

That nade a pepperin'!

Chip-hang! speaks the single-barrel;

'Flip-hoo-oo-ing!' roars the old Queen Anne.

There's a Paddy stretched out in the mud-hole,

A kick-a-over, knocked-down man!

The big bul-dog's eyes stick out,

And the terrier's barks begin;

The Paddy digs out of the deep mud,

And then the 'discorsin' comes in:

'Oh, Jamey, ye precious young blag-guard,

I know ye're the devil's son!

How many fingers' load, thin!

Did ye put in this d--d ould gun?

'How many fingers! Be jabbers!

I niver put in a one!

Dye think I'd be after rammin'

Me fingers into the gun?

'Well, give us the powder, Jamey.'

'The powder! as sure as I'm born,

I put it in yer musket.

As I ne'er had a powder horn!

Knickerbocker.

I Love to Steal.

An amusing incident occurred in one of the down-east churches some years ago. The clergyman gave out on a pleasant Sabbath afternoon in July:

I love to steal every where.

From every cumbering care.

And spend the hour of setting day

In humble, grateful prayer.

The regular choirster being absent,

the duty devolved on the good old deacon

M. who commenced:

'I love to steal--'

and then he bagged down--and, raising his voice to a still higher pitch, he sang:

'I love to steal--'

and, as before, he concluded he had got the wrong pitch, and deploring that he had not his "pitch tuner," he determined to succeed if he died in the attempt.

By this time the old ladies were tittering behind their fans, whilst the faces of the young were all in a broad grin. At length, after a desperate cough, he made a final demonstration, and roared out--

'I love to steal--'

"This effort was too much; every other but the godly and eccentric parson was laughing, who arose, and with the utmost coolness said:

"Seeing our brother's propensities, let us all pray!"

It is needless to say but few of that congregation heard the prayer.

Popery the Same at all Times.

The spirit of Popery, says "America's Own," is persecuting. Not only has it been so, but it is so yet. At Rome, to this day, are melals struck off by order of the Pope, in commemoration of the battery on St. Bartholomew's day.

It is stated, on the authority of a Paris journal, that in the town of Belpech, in France, the massacre of St. Bartholomew is annually commemorated by illuminations which continue for a week.

The children, during the evening of the same period, perambulate the streets, carrying large gourds carved into the shape of Death's heads, in which they insert lighted tapers. In that massacre, it is believed that 50,000 Protestants fell victims to Papal cruelty. A fine illustration this, of the unchanging nature of popery. The celebration of that work of death is a justification of it, and a declaration that the same would be done again if circumstances favored it.

AMERICAN ARTISTS' UNION.

THE American Artists' Union, would respectfully inform the citizens of the United States and Canada, that for the purpose of cultivating a taste for the fine arts throughout the country, and with a view of enabling every family to become possessed of a gallery of pictures, they have determined to make an extensive sale of their Engravings, and thus not only give employment to a large number of artists, but also to give to the public a taste for works of art, to present for the purchase of their engravings, when 250,000 of them are

250,000 GIFTS, of the actual cost of $150,000

Each purchaser of a One Dollar Engraving, therefore receives not only an Engraving worth the money, but also a ticket entitling him to one of the gifts when they are distributed.

For Five Dollars, a highly finished Engraving, beautifully framed, and a Ticket entitling him to one of the gifts; or for Five Dollars, the worth of splendid Engravings can be selected from the Catalogue.

A copy of the Catalogue, together with a specimen of one of the Engravings, can be seen at the office of this paper.

For each Dollar sent, an Engraving actually worth that sum, and a Gift Ticket, will immediately be forwarded.

AGENTS.

The Committee believing that the success of this Great National Undertaking will be materially promoted by the energy and enterprise of intelligent and persevering agents, have resolved to invite to the office of the National any person willing to become an Agent, by sending

(not paid), $1.00, which will be returned him, a One Dollar

Engraving, and a Ticket entitling him to one of the gifts

when they are distributed.

On the completion of the sale, the gift will be placed in the hands of a Committee of the Purchasers to be distributed, due notice of which will be given throughout the United States and Canada.
